

FEMS Grants

This meeting is selected by the Federation of European Microbiological Societies (FEMS) to offer grants for congress participation for Early Career Researchers*.

Eligibility

To apply for this grant, you would need to meet following requirements:

- be a member of a FEMS Member Society* or be recommended by such a member
- be an Early Career Scientist**
- be an Active Microbiologist
- be presenting author at the meeting (oral or poster)

*Find out if your society is a FEMS Member at <https://fems-microbiology.org/member-societies/>

**These are active microbiologists who obtained the highest academic degree - Bachelor, Master or PhD - less than five years prior to the application deadline date, or are a Master or PhD student.

Application process

Please submit a completed ECS Meeting Grant Application Form to 23rdencm@ua.es before 2018, August the 27th

Additional benefits

As a FEMS Member Society member, you can:

- benefit the grant provided for this meeting (see Eligibility above)
- apply for FEMS Grants
- benefit a discount off the registration fee for FEMS congresses
- benefit a 25% discount off a selection of OUP books